

RANSOMWARE FOUND A NEW TARGET

187.9 Million

Ransomware is being used to surgically target victims that are more likely to pay given the sensitive data they possess or funds at their disposal (or both).

In 2019, this meant that many of the 187.9 million ransomware attacks were against state, provincial and local governments, as well as education systems.

